1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

During this course, I've learned many ways to improve my French through speaking, writing, and reading. I've also learned the usage of many tenses and along with that I got to know more about the history of France along with many new vocabulary terms.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

I enjoyed participating in this course and it helped me improve my speaking. I was eager to "participate" all the time. Though I did not put much effort into the final projects, I enjoyed it.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

The films we watched in class were very interesting. It ranged from short clips to movies that brought in interesting ideas and facts about France. The final project was also helpful in expressing ideas.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

My writing improved a lot - this was the first French class I've taken that didn't focus on just grammar. The 'portraits' and 'Ateliers' helped me improve my vocabulary and writing style. I did learn a lot of grammar though, such as the correct way to use 'y' and 'en' which was confusing for me up until this course.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

I don't raise my hand a lot just because I kind of am shy and know there are kids that could say what I'm trying to say in a much more eloquent way. However, I do volunteer from time to time and I'm not afraid to ask questions. I put a lot of effort into this class.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

As I said before, the writing pieces we did and the short film of our narration were the assignments that contributed to the majority of my learning. They helped me work on my pronunciation, vocab., and ability to convey my emotions through writing.

Mme. Swanson is a very good teacher. She's passionate about French and that helps make it fun and exciting. She's very easy to talk to as well; I've gone to her office hours numerous times, which I can't say I've done for many classes. She taught the material in a very 'understandable' way, too, which helped for the harder subjects.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

We have learned about French history as it relates to the language and how to read and write in French better than when we came in. It was excellent practice for using French in the real world.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

This course did not require much effort at all, but it gives you the opportunity to put in as much effort as you want to better your fluency.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

During this course we learned how to vary our French writing skills to create complex sentences, we heightened our reading comprehension and explored important aspects of French history to help submerge us in the language and culture.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

I worked actively to complete the assignments and came prepared to class. I spent time in the language lab outside the class to perfect my writing and pronunciation skills.

Professor Swanson is very helpful when we ask questions, but a lot of the time there is quite a bit of confusion over what we are being asked to do. She was very good at facilitating discussion because we paired off for speaking practice, but I think it would also be beneficial to have casual conversations too because sometimes I don't fully understand the reading we discuss, so I am unable to participate in the actual discussion.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

I have learned a lot about culture and stories in French. I also learned some grammar but most I had seen before. However it was good to review concepts.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

Compared with other classes I put about the same effort into this class as other classes. However, there were times when I worked harder.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

I found our homework was very effective in helping us and professor Swanson had a plethora of educational tools at her disposal that she implemented well.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

I have learned how to enrich my writing by really focusing on word choice, verb choice, sentence structure... I have also further deepened my understanding of different grammar concepts. I have developed more creativity through the video project. I have also learned about French history and culture.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

I think I participate in class quite a lot. I enjoy talking because I really want to improve my fluency, pronunciation, and flow when speaking French. Because this class was quite a review of what I did in HS, I devoted a little less time on it than my other classes.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

I really like that we do a mix of grammar, writing, debate, discussion, videos... It keeps the course interesting and fun and doesn't make it repetitive. I like that everything still felt connected despite the different formats.

I think Prof. Swanson is a very motivating, energetic, and dynamic teacher. You can really tell that she wants us to succeed. I would have maybe liked to do some kind of group project because maybe that would have heightened discussion in class. I also wish when speaking that we got corrected more on pronunciation, just to really improve

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

I have learned a great deal of french grammar through this course. Professor swanson has also taught me how to analyze french literature, film, and art. This course is very comprehensive and I feel as though I am better prepared to utilize French and communicate my ideas properly.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

I put in a fair amount of effort for this class. The homework assignments are due every class period and I have never missed one. I would say I spend an average amount of time/effort on this course as I do in my other classes.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

Professor Swanson utilized seemingly every tool I can think of to help us understand the French language. The readings, essays, films, homework, class exercises, ePortfolios, French conversations, etc. all come together and each component played off of each other throughout the semester in an easy-to-follow manner.

6. INSTRUCTION: How effective was the instructor in fostering learning? Consider as appropriate the instructor's ability to enable the development of skills, facilitate discussion, help you to understand concepts, course material, and their significance.

Professor Swanson is incredible at fostering learning. In class, we are never stuck on one assignment or activity for more than 15 or 20 minutes. This keeps everyone very engaged in the material and the class periods are always so organized and flow easily from one task to the next. Her teaching makes learning French fun, engaging, somewhat challenging but also easy to follow.

WHY did you make the recommendation above?

I have had other French professors before, but Professor Swanson is by far the best. If I have the opportunity, I'd like to take every French class at Lafayette with her. I have learned so much and look forward to attending class every day. She's one of the professors here that makes Lafayette a great school.

Thank you for your time and thoughtful consideration.

1. LEARNING: What have you learned from this course? Consider, as appropriate, how the course deepened your critical or analytical abilities, factual knowledge, understanding of concepts, creativity, communication skills, and ability to pursue further work in the subject.

I learned significantly to improve on writing in French as well as grammatical syntax for French.

2. YOUR PARTICIPATION: How would you assess your own effort in the course? How much effort did you expend as compared to your other classes?

The workload was fair. It was little more work than French 112 but it was understandable since it is more advanced class.

3. COURSE CONTENT AND FORMAT: How did the various components of the course contribute to your learning? Consider, as appropriate, lectures, readings, writing assignments, problem sets, films, labs, drills, studio work, debates, discussions, presentations, field work, or group work.

We did lectures, readings, writing assignment, and labs. Above all, video essay was fun.
